Claim Objections

1. Claims 43,45 are objected to because of the following informalities: In each of the last lines of claims 43 and 45, ---graft component--- should be inserted between "second" and "segments". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
- 3. Claims 37-40 and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Marcade et al. US PN 5,993,481.

Marcade et al. discloses in figures 1-10 multiple graft system embodiments and delivery systems.

Regarding claims 37-40 Figure 8 shows a single piece graft having larger ends and stents located along the entire length.

Regarding claim 46, Figures 3a-3J and 9-10 disclose a method of implanting two graft segments telescopically wherein the inner portion of the delivery system has a transition element (518).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 41-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marcade et al. US PN 5,993,481 as applied to claims 37 and 40 above, and in further view of Fogarty et al. US PN 6,123,722.

Marcade et al. discloses in figure 8 a graft system meeting the structural limitations of claims 41-45 but lacks the express written disclosure of including a bellows region in the middle portion of the graft system. Fogarty et al. teaches in figure 7B and lines 48-55 of column 18 graft systems that may comprise bellows regions for modifying the length of the graft system.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the graft disclosed by Marcade et al. by including a bellows region in order to provide adjustable length to the graft as taught by Fogarty et al.

6. Claims 37-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fogarty et al. US PN 6,123,722 in view of Marcade et al. US PN 5,993,481.

With regard to claims 37-45, Fogarty et al. discloses in figure 3 a tubular graft component with first and second ends (68,70) of larger diameter than the middle portion (64), a length adjustable middle and stents in both the first and second ends. The length adjustable middle can comprise a bellows region (column 18, lines 48-55 and figure 7B). Furthermore, figure 4 shows various middle regions having independent stents located at the ends, the stents shown in detail in figures 3B and 3C.

With regard to claim 46, Fogarty et al. discloses a catheter system (figure 2) for deploying first and second graft segments (see column 11, lines 44-50) in a telescoping manner (see figures 3-4).

Fogarty et al. fails to disclose a transition element having a tapered portion located substantially between the first and second graft portions and that the modular components of the graft system can be formed as a single piece graft. Marcade et al. teaches graft systems in figures 2,8 and lines 55 of col. 21 through line 6 of col. 22 (for single piece graft) and figures 3a-3j and 9-10 (for tapered portion) in order to eliminate the need to deliver multiple grafts and to assist implantation of the second graft, respectively.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the graft disclosed by Fogarty et al. by using a single piece graft and a tapered portion in order to eliminate the need to deliver multiple grafts and to assist implantation of the second graft, respectively as taught by Marcade et al.
